

| Who will inherit your estate? |

Are you married?

If you aren't married then your partner will receive nothing

* If anyone in this category dies before the deceased person, leaving children of their own, those children inherit the share which would have gone to their parent